Alginate/Silver Alginate Dressings

Highly absorbent calcium alginate dressings are derived from seaweed. Placed into the wound as a dry fiber, they quickly absorb exudate and convert to a gel, facilitating moist wound healing. Recommended for wounds with moderate to heavy exudate.

Collagen Dressings

Collagen dressings are manufactured in sheets, pads, particles, and gels. They may be used as primary dressings for partial and full-thickness wounds, infected and non-infected wounds, tunnelling wounds and wounds with minimal to heavy exudate.

Foam Dressings

Foam dressings provide thermal insulation to the wound, create a moist healing environment, are nonadherent, and remove easily. Foam dressings are available in non-adhesive and adhesive styles with borders.

Hydrocolloid Dressings

Protect fragile skin and areas of the body affected by urinary and fecal incontinence and/or frictional forces. Most hydrocolloid wafers react with wound exudate to form a gel-like covering to protect the wound and maintain a moist environment.

Transparent Film Dressings

Adhesive and waterproof, transparent dressings are thin and breathable. Transparent film dressings maintain a moist environment, promoting granulation tissue formation and autolytic debridement of slough and eschar.
